

10 (+1) Reasons To Attend The March 3 Steve Bell Concert:

I thought that I would try and give some good reasons to attend the upcoming Steve Bell concert at Nelson Ave (Saturday, March 3, 7:30pm):

1. Great Songs: Steve has written some great songs—both very singable and also very inspiring songs.
2. Great Guitarist: for those of us who play guitar (whether you play well or not so well) or who want to play guitar, come and be inspired.
3. Great stories: Steve is a fabulous storyteller (and he has some amazing stories to tell!).
4. Be Part Of History: as far as I know, this is the first Steve Bell concert that Nelson Ave has ever hosted. If you come, you will help make history.
5. Christian Encouragement: the evening will be very entertaining but also be an evening of worship and encouragement.
6. A Great Date: I took Phyllis to a Steve Bell concert for our first date (way back in October of 1998). Thus for married couples, soon-to-be married couples or those thinking about becoming a couple, this would make for a great date (this is, in part, a not so subtle hint to the younger men among us—ask someone out to this event!).
7. (Almost) Guaranteed Enjoyment: you will love this concert. I know that "guarantee" is a big word. So if there were a word that was just a little short of "guarantee" (95% of guarantee) I would use it.
8. Support A Christian Artist: Christian artists need the support of the church. This is one good way to do that.
9. Great price: although, for some, $15 seems like a lot of money it is actually very reasonable.
10. Great family Rate: at $40 (for a family of 3 or more who are members of Nelson Ave), this is a bargoon!
11. Youth Mission Trip Bakesale: the youth will be selling baked goods before and after the concert. What a great way to support their upcoming mission trip.

See you at the concert!
